Can you run ShopSite scripts through cgiwrap?

Can you run ShopSite scripts through cgiwrap?Solution ID: S02519

ShopSite requires that the back office is password protected via Basic authentication. This is the one problem with cgiwrap and ShopSite - password protecting the back office directory. In order to use .htaccess files through cgiwrap, it has to be installed with certain options, so cgiwrap may have to be reinstalled with these options. You can test your current installation by creating a test .htaccess file and trying to access the directory.
