Using the Linux version of ShopSite on FreeBSD (or OpenBSD) servers

Version: ALL

OS: FreeBSD

Question: Can I use the Linux build of ShopSite on my FreeBSD (or OpenBSD) server if I have the Linux compatibility libs installed on my server?

Solution ID: S05441

No.

Running Linux ShopSite binaries on a FreeBSD (or OpenBSD) server is not a tested configuration, and is therefore not recommended or supported. There have been extreme issues reported by those who have attempted this configuration. In all known cases, changing to the native FreeBSD build of ShopSite resolved those issues.

A native FreeBSD build of ShopSite is built for every release, and this is the tested, recommended, and supported version to install on FreeBSD servers.
